Hunters Helping the Hungry Needs Help with Meatprocessing Costs

Hunters Helping the Hungry, an organization that has enabled hunters to donate thousands pounds of venison to feed New Jersey families since 1997, now needs some help from the public to cover the costs of professional meat processing.

The program, which donated more than 8,000 pounds of venison to food banks and charitable organizations last year alone, operates with limited funding. Butchers who participate in the Hunters Helping the Hungry program receive $65 to process the donated deer. Currently, hunters who donate deer to feed the hungry must contribute at least $25 toward that processing fee. If the program's funding runs out, hunters who donate deer will have to cover the entire cost for meat processing.

Hunters should check on funding availability before harvesting a deer intended for donation by visiting www.huntershelpingthehungry.org.

Anyone interested in making a charitable contribution to offset the program's meatprocessing costs may send a check payable to: Hunters Helping the Hungry, P.O. Box 587, Lebanon, NJ 08833.

Does Your Hunter Orange Measure Up?

By Charles Fletcher, Captain Northern Region Law Enforcement

"It's my lucky hat." "I shot my first buck wearing this hat." "This was my father's hunting vest." Conservation officers hear this every year when informing hunters on the condition of their orange hat or outer clothing. The law requires hunters, during specific seasons, to wear a solid, fluorescent hunter orange hat or a garment containing at least 200 square inches of hunter orange material visible from all sides.

Too often conservation officers encounter hunters whose hunting garments are too faded or don't contain adequate orange material to be legal. Camouflage hunter orange garments such as a jumpsuit, jacket or vest may satisfy the requirement if the total orange content is at least 200 square inches and visible from all sides. Statistics prove that hunters who fail to meet the hunter orange requirements are seven times more likely to be injured than those who comply. Hunters who violate the law are subject to a summons and fine. Subsequent hunter orange violations will result in the revocation of hunting and fishing privileges. Be smart, be safe, be legal – be sure your fluorescent hunter orange offers the protection of being seen.

Hunter orange is defined as a daylight fluorescent orange color with a dominant wavelength between 595 and 605 nanometers, excitation purity not less than 85% and a luminance factor of not less than 40%. Beyond this technical jargon, the bottom line for hunters remains: Be safe; wear hunter orange when required and be sure it's bright.

This hunter orange hat is too faded and is not legal. Faded orange provides reduced safety. Don't wait to be checked by a Conservation Officer; make sure your hunter orange is still bright.
