Dear Juvenile Justice Colleague:

I am pleased to present the 2009 juvenile detention statistics prepared by the Compliance Monitoring Unit. Please note that there are two sets of statistics attached. Due to the physical plant limitations of the Bergen County Juvenile Detention Center, a soft cap of 14 was placed on the facility as of January 2006. The County has made arrangements with Morris County to house, as necessary, Bergen juveniles needing secure detention. Also, the Warren County Juvenile Detention Center closed on December 31, 2008 and began sending juveniles requiring secure detention to Morris County.

Additional causes for adjustments were due to the closings of the Passaic and Gloucester County juvenile detention centers on April 3, 2009 and June 3, 2009, respectively. All juveniles requiring secure detention in Gloucester County after closing were transferred to the Camden, Middlesex, Cumberland and Burlington County detention facilities. All juveniles requiring secure detention in Passaic County after the closing were transferred to the Essex County juvenile detention center. Also, Union County entered into an agreement with the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services in July 2009 to house a maximum 15 federally detained juveniles in the County's juvenile detention center.

Due to these transfer/alternate housing arrangements, the 2009 detention statistics are presented in two ways. The first set of statistical tables, beginning with Table I, document the actual number of admissions and related child care days for each detention facility. A set of adjusted tables identified by an "A", beginning with Table I-A (Adjusted), are being provided, where applicable, to depict the figures for the counties noted above, had there been no transfer/alternate housing arrangements.

The statistics include information on admissions, childcare days, average daily population, and average length of stay. Two-year comparisons are provided as well as five-year statewide comparisons, where appropriate. Also, statistics are provided for county juvenile detention facilities that have juvenile detention commitment programs.

Please note that Cape May, Hunterdon, Salem and Somerset counties also do not operate juvenile detention centers. These counties send juveniles needing secure custody to neighboring county juvenile detention facilities. In the case of Somerset County, all juveniles needing secure detention are transferred to the Middlesex County Juvenile Detention Center. For statistical purposes, Somerset County's admissions and childcare days are listed separately from the Middlesex County figures in adjusted tables I-A through IX-A.

In closing, I hope the statistics are helpful to you and thank you for your interest in this matter.

Sincerely,

Veleria N. Lawson

TO: All Juvenile Detention Administrators
FROM: William M. Burke, Supervisor
Compliance Monitoring Unit
DATE: May 24, 2010
SUBJECT: Statistics on Juveniles in Detention Facilities - 2009

Attached are the statistics on juveniles placed in detention facilities in New Jersey during 2009, prepared by the Commission's Compliance Monitoring Unit. The data was collected through the completion of forms (Monthly Population Report for Juvenile Detention Facilities) received from each county facility and verified, if necessary, by phone.

Due to the physical plant limitations of the Bergen County Juvenile Detention Center, a soft cap of 14 was placed on the facility as of January 2006. The County has made arrangements to house, as necessary, juveniles needing secure detention in Morris County. Also, the Warren County Juvenile Detention Center closed on December 31, 2008 and began sending juveniles requiring secure detention to Morris County. In addition, all juveniles requiring secure detention in Somerset County are transferred to the Middlesex County Juvenile Detention Center.

Additional causes for adjustments were due to the closings of the Passaic and Gloucester County juvenile detention centers on April 3, 2009 and June 3, 2009, respectively. All juveniles requiring secure detention in Gloucester County after closing were transferred to the Camden, Middlesex, Cumberland and Burlington County detention facilities. All juveniles requiring secure detention in Passaic County after the closing were transferred to the Essex County juvenile detention center. Also, Union County entered into an agreement with the U.S. Dept. of Health and Human Services in July 2009 to house a maximum 15 federally detained juveniles in the County's juvenile detention center.

Due to these transfer/alternate housing arrangements, the 2009 detention statistics are presented in two ways. The first set of statistical tables, beginning with Table I, documents the actual number of admissions and related child care days for each detention facility. In addition, a set of adjusted tables identified by an "A", beginning with Table I-A (Adjusted), is being provided, where applicable, to depict the figures for the counties noted above, had there been no transfer/alternate housing arrangements.

For operational purposes in 2009, Bergen County juveniles were first admitted to the Bergen County detention center and counted as admissions, then transferred to the Morris County detention center where they were again counted as admissions. The adjusted tables differ from the regular tables in that admissions and related child care day figures for Morris County are lower on the adjusted tables, due to the subtraction of admissions and related child care days of juveniles transferred to Morris County from Bergen County. Consequently, the total child care days for those transferred are added to Bergen County's total on the adjusted tables, while Bergen's admissions remain unchanged.

For Warren County, the adjusted tables differ from the regular tables in that admissions and related child care day figures for Morris County are additionally lower on the adjusted tables, due to the subtraction of admissions and related child care days of juveniles transferred to Morris County from Warren County. Total admissions and child care days for those transferred are added to Warren County's total on the adjusted tables.

The figures for Camden, Burlington, Cumberland, Middlesex and Essex Counties differ on the adjusted tables from the regular tables due the subtraction of admissions and child care days transferred to those facilities by Gloucester and Passaic Counties. Total admissions and child care days for juveniles transferred to these counties are added to Gloucester and Passaic Counties' totals on the adjusted tables. With regard to Union County, the adjusted tables differ from the regular tables in that admissions and related child care figures for the federally detained juveniles are subtracted from Union County's total.

The reports present two-year comparisons as well as five-year statewide comparisons where appropriate. Please note that the statistics in Tables I through VII and Tables I-A (Adjusted) through VII-A (Adjusted) do not include juveniles admitted to juvenile detention commitment programs. All statistics in Table X and Table X-A (Adjusted) and thereafter, include all juveniles admitted to detention, predispositional as well as commitment program admissions, for the purpose of presenting a true reflection of the number of juveniles in detention facilities.

Tables XIV and XV present juvenile detention rates for the period from 2005 to 2009. There are several methods of determining juvenile detention rates and for this report we have selected two methods. The first is based on delinquency complaints filed, in each year. The second is based on population figures for statewide estimates of juveniles age 10 -17.

Detention rates based on delinquency complaints filed are calculated by taking the number of juveniles admitted to detention statewide, dividing by the number of delinquency complaints filed in court statewide, and multiplying by 100 for each calendar year 2005-2009. Tables XIV and XIV-A (Adjusted) provide the figures for detention rates per 100 delinquency complaints filed.

Detention rates based on population are calculated by taking the number of juveniles admitted to detention statewide, dividing by the estimated number of juveniles age 10-17, and multiplying by 1,000. Tables XV and XV-A (Adjusted) provide the figures for statewide population estimates for juveniles age 10 -17, admissions to detention statewide, and the detention rates per one thousand juveniles age 10 -17.

Please note that Cape May, Hunterdon, Salem and Somerset counties also do not operate juvenile detention centers. These counties send juveniles needing secure custody to neighboring county juvenile detention facilities. Cape May, Hunterdon and Salem counties are not listed in the statistical tables as a result. In the case of Somerset County, all juveniles needing secure detention in Somerset County are transferred to the Middlesex County Juvenile Detention Center. For statistical purposes, Somerset County's admissions and child care days are listed separately from the Middlesex County figures in adjusted tables I-A through IX-A.

I would like to thank all the juvenile detention staff for their efforts in providing the data necessary to develop these statistics. Your cooperation is very much appreciated. If there are any questions, please feel free to call me at (609) 341-5056.

Cape May, Hunterdon, Salem, Somerset and Warren counties do not operate juvenile detention centers. These counties send juveniles needing secure detention to neighboring county juvenile detention facilities.

In January 2006, a "soft cap" of 14 was placed on Bergen County Juvenile Detention Center. Subsequently, prior to reaching the "soft cap," Bergen County has transferred juveniles requiring secure detention to Morris County. Table 1, and subsequent non-adjusted tables, document the number of admissions and child care days for youth actually detained in the Morris County facility. Due to the transfer of juveniles from Bergen County, the number of child care days in Table 1 for Morris County is increased, while the Bergen County child care days are decreased. In contrast, adjusted tables depict the figures for Bergen County as well as Morris County, had juveniles not been housed out of county.

*The Warren County Juvenile Detention Center closed on December 31, 2008 and began sending juveniles requiring secure detention to the Morris County detention facility.

The Passaic and Gloucester County juvenile detention centers closed on April 3, 2009 and June 3, 2009, respectively. All juveniles requiring secure detention in Gloucester County after the closing were transferred to the Burlington, Camden, Cumberland and Middlesex County detention facilities. All juveniles requiring secure detention in Passaic County after the closing were transferred to the Essex County juvenile detention center. Figures in Table I and subsequent tables for Gloucester and Passaic Counties reflect the number of juveniles held in their facilities up to the date of closure.

*In January 2006, a "soft cap" of 14 was placed on the Bergen County Juvenile Detention Center. Subsequently, prior to reaching the "soft cap," Bergen County has transferred juveniles requiring secure detention to Morris County. For operational purposes in 2009, Bergen juveniles were first admitted to the Bergen County detention facility and counted as admissions, then transferred to the Morris County detention facility where they were again counted as admissions. Also, the Warren County Juvenile Detention Center closed on December 31, 2008 and began sending juveniles requiring secure detention to the Morris County detention facility. In addition, all juveniles requiring secure detention in Somerset County are transferred to the Middlesex County Juvenile Detention Center. For statistical purposes, Somerset and Warren Counties' admissions and child care days are listed separately. Subsequently, admission and child care figures for Middlesex and Morris Counties are lower here as compared with the Table 1 figures, due in part to the subtraction of admissions and child care days of juveniles transferred from Somerset and Warren Counties.

Additional causes for adjustments were due to the closings of the Passaic and Gloucester County juvenile detention centers on April 3, 2009 and June 3, 2009, respectively. All juveniles requiring secure detention in Gloucester County after the closing were transferred to the Camden, Middlesex, Cumberland and Burlington County detention facilities. All juveniles requiring secure detention in Passaic County after the closing were transferred to the Essex County juvenile detention center. Additionally, Union County entered into an agreement with the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services in July 2009 to house a maximum of 15 federally detained juveniles in the County's juvenile detention center. Table I and subsequent non-adjusted tables document the number of admissions and child care days for youth actually detained in each facility. All adjusted tables depict the figures for the counties noted above, had there been no transfer/alternate housing arrangements.

Does not include juveniles admitted to juvenile detention commitment programs.

 Cape May, Hunterdon, Salem, Somerset and Warren counties do not operate juvenile detention centers. These counties send juveniles needing secure detention to neighboring county juvenile detention facilities.

*The reasons for adjustments to figures are discussed in first footnote for Table I-A. Adjustments to Table II are as follows: revisions to admissions, average daily population & average length of stay figures for Burlington, Camden, Cumberland, Essex, Middlesex, and Morris counties, as compared with the Table II figures, are due to the subtraction of admissions & child care days of juveniles housed in those counties from other counties. In addition, the revisions to admissions, average daily population & average length of stay for Gloucester, Passaic and Sussex counties as compared with Table II figures, are due to addition of admissions and child care days of juveniles housed in other counties. Revisions to Bergen County's average daily population and average length of stay are due to the increase of child care days from Morris County. Bergen County's admissions remain unchanged. Revisions to Union County's admissions, average daily population and average length of stay are due to the subtraction of the federally detained juveniles. Finally, the statewide figure for admissions is reduced because of the duplication of Bergen county admissions, and the statewide figure for average length of stay is the same, while statewide average daily population is reduced due to the subtraction of the federally detained juveniles from the Union County detention center.

 Does not include juveniles admitted to juvenile detention commitment programs.

All juveniles requiring secure detention in Somerset and Warren Counties are transferred to the Middlesex and Morris County Juvenile Detention Centers, respectively. For statistical purposes, Somerset and Warren Counties' admissions and child care days are listed separately. * The reasons for adjustments to figures are discussed in first footnote for Table I-A. Adjustments to 2009 figures in Table IV are as follows: revisions to average length of stay figures for Burlington, Camden, Cumberland, Essex, Middlesex, and Morris counties, as compared with the Table IV figures, are due to subtraction of admissions and child care days of juveniles housed in those counties from other counties. Revision to average length of stay figures for Bergen county is due to an increase in child care days. The admissions for Bergen remain unchanged. In addition, the revisions to average length of stay for Gloucester, Passaic and Sussex counties as compared with Table II figures, are due to addition of admissions and child care days of juveniles housed in other counties. Revision to Union County's average length of stay is due to the subtraction of the federally detained juveniles. The total statewide figure for average length of stay is the same as in Table IV while the calculation of percent of change from 2008 to 2009 for these counties as well as statewide figures is adjusted, as a result.

 Does not include juveniles admitted to juvenile detention commitment programs.

All juveniles requiring secure detention in Somerset and Warren Counties are transferred to the Middlesex and Morris County Juvenile Detention Centers, respectively. For statistical purposes, Somerset and Warren Counties' admissions and child care days are listed separately. Subsequently, revisions to 2009 average length of stay figures and percent change for Middlesex and Morris Counties, as compared with the Table IV figures, are due in part to the subtraction of admissions and child care days of juveniles transferred from Somerset and Warren Counties.

*The reasons for adjustments to figures are discussed in first footnote for Table I-A. Adjustments to Table V are as follows: average daily population figures for Burlington, Camden, Cumberland, Essex, Middlesex, and Morris counties are lower here, as compared with the Table V figures, due to the subtraction of child care days of juveniles transferred to those counties from other counties. Figures for Bergen, Gloucester and Passaic and Sussex counties are higher here as compared with the Table V figures, due to the addition of child care days of juveniles transferred to above counties. The figure for Union County is lower here, as compared with the Table V figures, due to the subtraction of the federally detained juveniles. The calculation of percent of change from 2008 to 2009 for these counties is adjusted, as a result. The statewide average daily population is reduced due to the subtraction of the federally detained juveniles from the Union County detention center.

 Does not include juveniles admitted to juvenile detention commitment programs.

All juveniles requiring secure detention in Somerset and Warren Counties are transferred to the Middlesex and Morris County Juvenile Detention Centers. For statistical purposes, Somerset and Warren Counties' admissions and child care days are listed separately. Subsequently, revisions to 2009 average daily population figures and percent change for Middlesex and Morris Counties, as compared with the Table V figures, are due to the subtraction of child care days of juveniles transferred from Somerset and Warren Counties.

*The reasons for adjustments to figures are discussed in first footnote for Table I-A. Adjustments to Table VI are as follows: the race/ethnicity breakdowns for admitted juveniles to Burlington, Camden, Cumberland, Essex, Middlesex, and Morris counties are revised based on the subtraction of male juveniles transferred to these counties from other counties. The revisions for Gloucester, Passaic and Sussex counties as compared with Table VI figures are due to addition of admissions of juveniles housed in other counties. Revisions to Union County's admissions are due to the subtraction of the federally detained juveniles. Figures for Bergen County remain unchanged, while the statewide breakdown is revised.

*The reasons for adjustments to figures are discussed in first footnote for Table I-A. Adjustments to Table X-A are as follows: average daily population figures for Burlington, Camden, Cumberland, Essex, Middlesex and Morris counties are lower here, as compared with the Table X figures, due to the subtraction of child care days of juveniles transferred to those counties from other counties. Figures for Union County are lower due to the subtraction of the federally detained juveniles. Figures for Bergen and Sussex counties are higher here as compared with the Table X figures, due to the addition of child care days of juveniles transferred to other counties. The calculations of percent of approved capacity for the above facilities are adjusted as a result. The statewide figures are also adjusted accordingly.

Includes juveniles admitted to juvenile detention commitment programs.

Although a "soft cap" of 14 was placed on the Bergen County Juvenile Detention Center in January 2006, the approved capacity for the facility remains at 41.

*All juveniles requiring secure detention in Somerset and Warren Counties are transferred to the Middlesex and Morris County Juvenile Detention Centers, respectively. For statistical purposes, Somerset and Warren Counties' figures were listed separately in previous tables. However, for Table X, figures are provided only for those counties which operate juvenile detention centers to determine the percent of approved capacity for each facility.

The Gloucester and Passaic County juvenile detention centers closed on April 3, 2009 and June 3, 2009, respectively. All juveniles needing secure detention in Gloucester County after the closing were transferred to the Camden, Middlesex, Cumberland and Burlington County juvenile detention centers. All juveniles requiring secure detention in Passaic County after the closing were transferred to the Essex county juvenile detention center. Table X figures for Gloucester and Passaic Counties are based on the number juveniles (admissions and child care days) actually detained at these facilities while they were in operation during 2009. Table X-A figures are based on the total number of Gloucester and Passaic juveniles detained during 2009 at the Gloucester and Passaic County detention centers as well as the above detention centers.

Adjustments to Table XI are as follows: the number of 2009 statewide male and female admissions are lower, as is the figure for statewide total. The calculation of percent of change figures involving 2009 is adjusted, as a result.

Includes juveniles admitted to juvenile detention commitment programs.

There was an under-reporting of Atlantic County admissions for the years 2002-2005. As a result, the 2005 admission figures for males, females and state total have been adjusted.

The calculation of percent of change figures involving 2009 is adjusted, as a result.

Includes juveniles admitted to juvenile detention commitment programs.

2009	6,698	32,027	20.9

*The reason for adjustments to figures is discussed in first footnote for Table I-A. Adjustments to Table XIV are as follows: the 2009 statewide figure for admissions is lower. The calculation for the 2009 detention rate based on delinquency complaints is adjusted, as a result.

Detention rates were calculated by taking the number of juveniles admitted to detention statewide, dividing by the number of delinquency complaints filed statewide, and multiplying by 100 for each calendar year 2005 through 2009.

There was an under-reporting of Atlantic County Admissions for the years 2002-2005. As a result, the 2005 admission figures have been adjusted.

*Includes juveniles admitted to juvenile detention commitment programs.

*The reason for adjustments to figures is discussed in first footnote for Table I-A. Adjustments to Table XV are as follows: the 2009 statewide figure for admissions is lower. However, the calculation for the 2009 detention rate based on population is essentially the same.

Detention rates were calculated by taking the number of juveniles admitted to detention statewide, dividing by the estimated number of juveniles age 10 to17, and multiplying by 1,000.
