message from the Juvenile Justice Commission

From prevention to parole, the New Jersey Juvenile Justice Commission (JJC) is a partner in the entire juvenile justice system, working with communities to help redirect the lives of young people. Each community in our state is different, and as a result, has varying needs. The JJC works with its community partners to help provide important resources for young people to prevent them from having contact with the juvenile justice system. If our young people feel safe and secure in their homes, schools, and neighborhoods, they are more likely to stay away from gangs or other delinquent behavior.

JJC treats gangs as an addictive behavior. In order to help young people turn away from high-risk behaviors, community resources must be established. This booklet helps connect you to some of those resources.

Often young people and parents may not know where to turn for assistance. This booklet provides critical contact information to help you obtain the assistance necessary to live healthy and successful lives.

If you feel unsafe in your home, school, or neighborhood, first always call 911 for immediate assistance. For more information, contact the JJC Gang Management Unit at (609) 943-5458.

how to connect

Lifelines is an easy access booklet designed to help you connect with agencies that provide crisis information, medical information, legal advice, and education and career opportunities.

In the pages that follow, you will find helpful hotline numbers and referral information.

phone tips

- Write down your questions ahead of time. Try to be as clear as possible when describing your problem.
- When you call, keep a pencil and paper handy.
- If you are put on hold, please wait. The agencies listed in this directory want to help but sometimes they get busy.
- If you can't wait, give your name and the number where you can be reached, so that someone can call you back.
- To help you, your contact may need some information you should have handy such as: your age, birth date, social security number and address. Everything you say is private.

Remember the Hotline numbers are for important calls. The contacts are there to help you.

what you should know

CRISIS INFORMATION

- Violence– Any unwanted emotional, physical, or sexual behaviors.
- Emotional abuse– Continuous, hurtful verbal or mental criticism which effects you negatively.
- Physical abuse– Hitting or pushing which results in bruises or pain. PHYSICAL ABUSE IS AGAINST THE LAW.
- Sexual abuse– When someone else touches your private parts in a way that makes you uncomfortable or confused. Sexual assault, including rape or date rape, is a forced sexual act. SEXUAL ABUSE OF ANY KIND IS AGAINST THE LAW.

For juvenile victims of emotional, physical, or sexual abuse, call the State Division of Youth and Family Services (DYFS) for assistance. 1-800-792-8610

- Running Away– Sometimes things may get very bad at home and you may feel trapped with nowhere to turn. You may feel abused or neglected, or maybe you just can't get along with your parents. If you think running away is your last resort, contact:

National Runaway Switchboard 1-800-621-4000

SEXUALLY TRANSMITTED DIS-

EASES: If you are sexually active, you must use condoms to avoid STDs. STDs include syphilis, gonorrhea, herpes, chlamydia, HIV/AIDS. These diseases are passed from person to person through sexual intercourse or other intimate body contact. No vaccine can prevent STDs; while some sexually transmitted diseases cannot be cured, all of them can be treated.

STDs ARE DANGEROUS IF LEFT UNTREATED AND MAY LEAD TO DEATH.

EDUCATION

Staying in school until graduation is an important vehicle for controlling your own life. If you drop out of school, there are other ways to earn a diploma. A General Education Development (GED) test is available through your local adult school or community college. A college degree, either a Bachelor's or Associate's, or technical training will increase your career choices.

Financial aid is available for your education. Job Corps of Edison is a residential education and training program open to students throughout New Jersey. For more information, call 1-800-820-1080.

EMPLOYMENT

If you are under 16, working papers will be necessary to gain employment. You can obtain working papers from your high school guidance counselor. Once you are 16, many part-time jobs are available, but the number of hours you may work are limited until you are 18.

Look for job openings in the classified section of the newspaper, on the internet, or visit your local One-Stop Career Center. Each county operates a One Stop Center. Their phone numbers are listed on the following pages.
