Dear Trooper [REDACTED]

I wish to offer my heartfelt congratulations on your outstanding arrest.

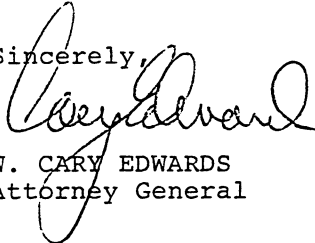

Your continued success in the field of law enforcement is certainly a source of pride to me, and I have no doubt, it also serves as an inspiration to your fellow officers. Few individuals in any field can claim such professional accomplishment.

When outstanding police work becomes, as in your case, a trademark, there is no question it is due to tireless dedication and a devotion to duty. The New Jersey State Police is indeed fortunate to have you among its elite corps of officers.

Please accept my congratulations again and please continue this outstanding work.

Be advised a copy of this letter is being sent to Colonel Pagano so that it can be placed in your personnel record.

Dear Trooper [REDACTED]

Your outstanding arrest made on February 6, 1986 which resulted in the confiscation of twenty pounds of marijuana valued at $28,000 has been brought to my attention.

Indeed I was very pleased to learn of this fine display of police work and, accordingly, I wanted to commend you for your efforts. In my view, much of the reason the New Jersey State Police benefits from a reputation as one of the nation's finest law enforcement organizations is due to excellent performance of its individual officers each and every day. Your professionalism exemplified by this most recent arrest demonstrates your total dedication to duty.

I salute you and wish you continued success. Also, please be advised by copy of this letter I am requesting that Colonel Pagano make this a permanent part of your personnel record.

Dear [REDACTED]

Your outstanding arrest made on August 14, 1986 which resulted in the confiscation of 152 vials of cocaine (crack) valued at $1,500 has been brought to my attention.

Indeed I was very pleased to learn of this fine display of police work and, accordingly, I wanted to commend you for your efforts. In my view, much of the reason the New Jersey State Police benefits from a reputation as one of the nation's finest law enforcement organizations is due to excellent performance of its individual officers each and every day. Your professionalism exemplified by this most recent arrest demonstrates your total dedication to duty.

I salute you and wish you continued success. Also, please be advised by copy of this letter I am requesting that Colonel Pagano make this a permanent part of your personnel record.

Again, congratulations.

Dear Trooper [REDACTED]

I wish to offer my heartfelt congratulations on your outstanding arrest.

Your continued success in the field of law enforcement is certainly a source of pride to me, and I have no doubt, it also serves as an inspiration to your fellow officers. Few individuals in any field can claim such professional accomplishment.

When outstanding police work becomes, as in your case, a trademark, there is no question it is due to tireless dedication and a devotion to duty. The New Jersey State Police is indeed fortunate to have you among its elite corps of officers.

Please accept my congratulations again and please continue this outstanding work.

Be advised a copy of this letter is being sent to Colonel Pagano so that it can be placed in your personnel record.

Sincerely,
