October 31, 2007 Government Records Council Meeting

James Keelen
Complainant

v.
City of Long Branch (Monmouth)
Custodian of Record

At the October 31, 2007 public meeting, the Government Records Council ("Council") considered the October 24, 2007 Findings and Recommendations of the Executive Director and all related documentation submitted by the parties. The Council voted unanimously to adopt the entirety of said findings and recommendations. The Council, therefore, finds that:

1. The Custodian failed to provide the Complainant with a written response granting access, denying access, requesting clarification or requesting an extension of time within the statutorily mandated seven (7) business days. Therefore, the Custodian violated N.J.S.A. 47:1A-5.g. and N.J.S.A. 47:1A-5.i., thereby creating a “deemed” denial.

2. The evidence of record does not support a conclusion that the Custodian knowingly and willfully violated OPRA and unreasonably denied access under the totality of the circumstances. The Custodian forwarded the request to the Director of Building and Development, who found no records responsive existed. However, the Custodian’s actions in failing to respond in writing to the Complainant’s OPRA request within the statutorily mandated seven (7) business days appears negligent and heedless since she is vested with the legal responsibility of granting and denying access in accordance with OPRA.

This is the final administrative determination in this matter. Any further review should be pursued in the Appellate Division of the Superior Court of New Jersey within forty-five (45) days. Information about the appeals process can be obtained from the Appellate Division Clerk’s Office, Hughes Justice Complex, 25 W. Market St., PO Box 006, Trenton, NJ 08625-0006. Proper service of submissions pursuant to any appeal is to be made to the Council in care of the Executive Director at the State of New Jersey.
Final Decision Rendered by the

On The 31st Day of October, 2007

Vincent P. Maltese, Chairman

James Keelen v. City of Long Branch (Monmouth), 2007-141 – Findings and Recommendations of the Executive Director
The Complainant asserts that he submitted his OPRA request form on May 22, 2007 and to this date has not received a response.

June 14, 2007
Offer of Mediation sent to both parties.

June 21, 2007
The Custodian agreed to mediate this complaint. The Complainant did not respond to the Offer of Mediation.

June 28, 2007
Request for the Statement of Information sent to the Custodian.

July 3, 2007
Custodian’s Statement of Information (“SOI”) attaching the Complainant’s OPRA request dated May 22, 2007, which includes a notation of the Director of Building and Development, Kevin Hayes, dated June 11, 2007.5

The Custodian asserts that the City of Long Branch received the Complainant’s OPRA request on May 22, 2007. The Custodian also asserts that Mr. Hayes responded to the Complainant on June 11, 2007. The Custodian also asserts that Mr. Hayes conducted a search for EPA permits for construction on the beach but could not find any within the three (3) week period between the receipt of the Complainant’s OPRA request and the date of the response.

The Custodian contends that the City of Long Branch has complied in all respects with OPRA in responding to the Complainant’s request. The Custodian also contends that the OPRA request is for information that requires the City to perform research in order to properly respond. The Custodian further contends that the request has no time delineations and seeks no specific type of permit.

The Custodian asserts that the request is improper under OPRA since it requires research to be done and the request is not document specific. The Custodian also asserts that instead of responding in this regard, the Custodian went to Mr. Hayes, who in return conducted a search for any permits that might be responsive to the request and concluded that no permits existed. The Custodian further asserts that this issue raises the question of whether the City would be in possession of EPA permits in the first place.

The Custodian contends that the City fully complied with an improper request made by the Complainant.

July 23, 2007
Letter from the GRC to the Custodian. The GRC acknowledges that the Custodian certified in the SOI that the Complainant submitted his OPRA request on May 22, 2007 and that the Director of Building and Development, Kevin Hayes, responded to the request on June 11, 2007 indicating that he was not aware of any such permits existing. The GRC also acknowledges that during a telephone call with the Custodian, 5 The Custodian attached additional correspondence which is not relevant to adjudication.

the Custodian indicated that she forwarded the request to Mr. Hayes on May 22, 2007 and again to his secretary on June 6, 2007 after the Custodian did not receive a response from Mr. Hayes.

The GRC requests that the Custodian provide a legal certification for the statements above within three (3) business days because the Custodian did not include this information within her Statement of Information. The GRC also requests that Mr. Hayes send a legal certification stating that no records responsive to the Complainant’s OPRA request exist.

July 26, 2007
Letter from the Custodian to the GRC. The Custodian certifies that on May 22, 2007 the Complainant submitted his OPRA request; the OPRA request was forwarded to Mr. Hayes on the same day, and again on June 6, 2007 to his secretary after no response was received from Mr. Hayes. The Custodian also certifies that Mr. Hayes’ response was received by her office on June 11, 2007.

July 26, 2007
Letter from the Director of Building and Development, Kevin Hayes Sr., to the GRC. The Director certifies that, as indicated on the OPRA request form, he is not aware that any EPA permits for construction on the beach in the City of Long Branch exist.

Analysis

Whether the Custodian unlawfully denied access to the requested records?

OPRA provides that:

“…government records shall be readily accessible for inspection, copying, or examination by the citizens of this State, with certain exceptions…” (Emphasis added.) N.J.S.A. 47:1A-1.

Additionally, OPRA defines a government record as:

“…any paper, written or printed book, document, drawing, map, plan, photograph, microfilm, data processed or image processed document, information stored or maintained electronically or by sound-recording or in a similar device, or any copy thereof, that has been made, maintained or kept on file … or that has been received in the course of his or its official business …” (Emphasis added.) N.J.S.A. 47:1A-1.1.

OPRA places the onus on the Custodian to prove that a denial of access is lawful. Specifically, OPRA states:

7 The Director of Building and Development’s letter is dated July 24, 2007.
8 Custodian’s Counsel sent an additional letter to the GRC that was not relevant to this adjudication.
“…[t]he public agency shall have the burden of proving that the denial of access is authorized by law…” N.J.S.A. 47:1A-6.

The Complainant asserts that he submitted an OPRA request to the Custodian on May 22, 2007 and as of the date on his Denial of Access Complaint, he has not received a response.

The Custodian certifies that on May 22, 2007 the Complainant submitted his request; on the same day said request was forwarded to the Director of Building and Development, Kevin Hayes, and again to his secretary on June 6, 2007 after not receiving a response. The Custodian also certifies that Mr. Hayes’ response was received by her office on June 11, 2007 indicating that he is not aware that any such permits exist.

Additionally, the Custodian asserts that the Complainant’s OPRA request was improper under OPRA since it requires research to be done and the request is not document specific. However, the Complainant’s OPRA request was not so improper that Mr. Hayes did not know which records for which to search.

OPRA provides that government records made, maintained, kept on file, or received by a public agency in the course of its official business are subject to public access unless otherwise exempt. Additionally, OPRA places the burden on a custodian to prove that a denial of access to records is lawful pursuant to N.J.S.A. 47:1A-6. A custodian must also release all records responsive to an OPRA request “with certain exceptions.” N.J.S.A. 47:1A-1.

OPRA requires that a custodian respond in writing to an OPRA request granting access, denying access, seeking clarification or requesting an extension of time within the statutorily mandated seven (7) business day time frame. N.J.S.A. 47:1A-5.g. and N.J.S.A. 47:1A-5.i. See also Kelley v. Rockaway Twp, GRC Complaint No. 2006-176 (March 2007). Additionally, failure to respond to an OPRA request in writing within seven (7) business days results in a deemed denial of access. N.J.S.A. 47:1A-5.i.

In a prior GRC decision, Skinner v. City of Cape May, GRC Complaint No. 2007-85 (April 2007), the Council found that the Custodian violated N.J.S.A. 47:1A-5.g. and N.J.S.A. 47:1A-5.i. by failing to provide the Complainant with a written response stating that the record requested does not exist within the statutorily mandated seven (7) business days therefore creating a “deemed” denial.

In this complaint, the Complainant asserts that he did not receive a response in writing within the statutorily mandated seven (7) business days required by OPRA. The Custodian asserts that the request was forwarded to the City’s Director of Building and Development, who responded in writing on June 11, 2007, stating that no records responsive to the request exist. As such, the Custodian failed to provide the Complainant with a written response granting access, denying access, requesting clarification or requesting an extension of time within the statutorily mandated seven (7) business days. Therefore, the Custodian violated N.J.S.A. 47:1A-5.g. and N.J.S.A. 47:1A-5.i., thereby creating a “deemed” denial.
Whether the Custodian’s delay in access to the requested records rises to the level of a knowing and willful violation of OPRA and unreasonable denial of access under the totality of the circumstances?

OPRA states that “[a] public official, officer, employee or custodian who knowingly or willfully violates [OPRA], and is found to have unreasonably denied access under the totality of the circumstances, shall be subject to a civil penalty …” N.J.S.A. 47:1A-11.a.

OPRA allows the Council to determine a knowing and willful violation of the law and unreasonable denial of access under the totality of the circumstances. Specifically OPRA states:

“… If the council determines, by a majority vote of its members, that a custodian has knowingly and willfully violated [OPRA], and is found to have unreasonably denied access under the totality of the circumstances, the council may impose the penalties provided for in [OPRA]…” N.J.S.A. 47:1A-7.e.

Certain legal standards must be considered when making the determination of whether the Custodian’s actions rise to the level of a “knowing and willful” violation of OPRA. The following statements must be true for a determination that the Custodian “knowingly and willfully” violated OPRA: the Custodian’s actions must have been much more than negligent conduct (Alston v. City of Camden, 168 N.J. 170 at 185 (2001); the Custodian must have had some knowledge that his actions were wrongful (Fielder v. Stonack, 141 N.J. 101, 124 (1995)); the Custodian’s actions must have had a positive element of conscious wrongdoing (Berg v. Reaction Motors Div., 37 N.J. 396, 414 (1962)); the Custodian’s actions must have been forbidden with actual, not imputed, knowledge that the actions were forbidden (Berg); the Custodian’s actions must have been intentional and deliberate, with knowledge of their wrongfulness, and not merely negligent, heedless or unintentional (ECES v. Salmon, 295 N.J. Super. 86 (App. Div. 1996) at 107).

The evidence of record does not support a conclusion that the Custodian knowingly and willfully violated OPRA and unreasonably denied access under the totality of the circumstances. The Custodian forwarded the request to the Director of Building and Development, who found no records responsive existed. However, the Custodian’s actions in failing to respond in writing to the Complainant’s OPRA request within the statutorily mandated seven (7) business days appear negligent and heedless since she is vested with the legal responsibility of granting and denying access in accordance with OPRA.

Conclusions and Recommendations

The Executive Director respectfully recommends the Council find that:

1. The Custodian failed to provide the Complainant with a written response granting access, denying access, requesting clarification or requesting an extension of time within the statutorily mandated seven (7) business days. Therefore, the Custodian violated N.J.S.A. 47:1A-5.g. and N.J.S.A. 47:1A-5.i., thereby creating a “deemed” denial.

2. The evidence of record does not support a conclusion that the Custodian knowingly and willfully violated OPRA and unreasonably denied access under the totality of the circumstances. The Custodian forwarded the request to the Director of Building and Development, who found no records responsive existed. However, the Custodian’s actions in failing to respond in writing to the Complainant’s OPRA request within the statutorily mandated seven (7) business days appears negligent and heedless since she is vested with the legal responsibility of granting and denying access in accordance with OPRA.
