At the July 30, 2008 public meeting, the Government Records Council ("Council") considered the July 23, 2008 Supplemental Findings and Recommendations of the Executive Director and all related documentation submitted by the parties. By a majority vote, the Council adopted the entirety of said findings and recommendations. The Council, therefore, finds that:

1. Because the Director of Operations certified that she provided the Complainant with the redacted records on June 6, 2008 as ordered by the Council and provided her certification of compliance to the Executive Director within the five (5) business days as also ordered by the Council, the Custodian has complied with the Council’s May 28, 2008 Interim Order.

2. Because the original Custodian properly responded to the Complainant’s OPRA request in regard to timeliness and form, and provided all records responsive to the Complainant with the exception of the reports from NJ Historic Trust to Commissioner Bass Levin, and even though the original Custodian unlawfully denied access to portions of said reports, because the current Custodian complied with the Council’s May 28, 2008 Interim Order by providing the redacted reports to the Complainant within the ordered five (5) business days, it is concluded that neither the original nor the current Custodian’s actions rise to the level of a knowing and willful violation of OPRA and unreasonable denial of access under the totality of the circumstances. However, the original Custodian’s unlawful denial of access to portions of the NJ Historic Trust reports appears negligent and heedless since he is vested with the legal responsibility of granting and denying access in accordance with the law.

This is the final administrative determination in this matter. Any further review should be pursued in the Appellate Division of the Superior Court of New Jersey.
Jersey within forty-five (45) days. Information about the appeals process can be obtained from the Appellate Division Clerk’s Office, Hughes Justice Complex, 25 W. Market St., PO Box 006, Trenton, NJ 08625-0006. Proper service of submissions pursuant to any appeal is to be made to the Council in care of the Executive Director at the State of New Jersey Government Records Council, 101 South Broad Street, PO Box 819, Trenton, NJ 08625-0819.

Government Records Council’s (“Council”) Interim Order. At its May 28, 2008 public meeting, the Council considered the May 21, 2008 In Camera Findings and Recommendations of the Executive Director and all related documentation submitted by the parties. By a majority vote, the Council adopted the entirety of said findings and recommendations. The Council, therefore, found that:

2. Rather, it connotes the non-existence of information or comment responsive to the prompt for the time period encompassed by the report. June 3, 2008
Council’s Interim Order distributed to the parties.

June 6, 2008
Director of Operations’ response to the Council’s Interim Order in the absence of the Custodian. The Director of Operations certifies that on June 6, 2008 she provided the Complainant with a copy of the redacted records as ordered by the Council on May 28, 2008.

Analysis

Whether the Custodian complied with the Council’s May 28, 2008 Interim Order?

Because the Director of Operations certified that she provided the Complainant with the redacted records on June 6, 2008 as ordered by the Council and provided her certification of compliance to the Executive Director within the five (5) business days as also ordered by the Council, the Custodian has complied with the Council’s May 28, 2008 Interim Order.

Whether the Custodian’s actions rise to the level of a knowing and willful violation of OPRA and unreasonable denial of access under the totality of the circumstances?

OPRA states that:

“[a] public official, officer, employee or custodian who knowingly or willfully violates [OPRA], and is found to have unreasonably denied access under the totality of the circumstances, shall be subject to a civil penalty …” N.J.S.A. 47:1A-11.a.

OPRA allows the Council to determine a knowing and willful violation of the law and unreasonable denial of access under the totality of the circumstances. Specifically OPRA states:

“… If the council determines, by a majority vote of its members, that a custodian has knowingly and willfully violated [OPRA], and is found to have unreasonably denied access under the totality of the circumstances, the council may impose the penalties provided for in [OPRA]…” N.J.S.A. 47:1A-7.e.

The original Custodian in this complaint provided the Complainant with a written response granting access in part and denying access in part to the Complainant’s request within the statutorily mandated seven (7) business days. As such, the original Custodian’s response was proper regarding timeliness and form pursuant to N.J.S.A. 47:1A-5.g. and N.J.S.A. 47:1A-5.i. The current Custodian certified that no other records

responsive exist in addition to the records provided to the Complainant and the records denied on the basis that said records are exempt from disclosure as advisory, consultative or deliberative (“ACD”) material pursuant to N.J.S.A. 47:1A-1.1. After an in camera review of these records, confidential reports from NJ Historic Trust to Commissioner 2007, May 9, 2007 and May 16, 2007, the Council determined that certain portions of said records are exempt as ACD material but the balance must be disclosed to the Complainant. The Custodian complied with the Council’s May 28, 2008 Interim Order to provide the Complainant with the redacted reports.

Certain legal standards must be considered when making the determination of whether the Custodian’s actions rise to the level of a “knowing and willful” violation of OPRA. The following statements must be true for a determination that the Custodian “knowingly and willfully” violated OPRA: the Custodian’s actions must have been much more than negligent conduct (Alston v. City of Camden, 168 N.J. 170 at 185 (2001); the Custodian must have had some knowledge that his actions were wrongful (Fielder v.
Stonack, 141 N.J. 101, 124 (1995)); the Custodian’s actions must have had a positive element of conscious wrongdoing (Berg v. Reaction Motors Div., 37 N.J. 396, 414 (1962)); the Custodian’s actions must have been forbidden with actual, not imputed, knowledge that the actions were forbidden (Berg); the Custodian’s actions must have been intentional and deliberate, with knowledge of their wrongfulness, and not merely 1996) at 107).

Therefore, because the original Custodian properly responded to the Complainant’s OPRA request with regard to timeliness and form, and provided all records responsive to the Complainant with the exception of the reports from NJ Historic Trust to Commissioner Bass Levin, and even though the original Custodian unlawfully denied access to portions of said reports, because the current Custodian complied with the Council’s May 28, 2008 Interim Order by providing the redacted reports to the Complainant within the ordered five (5) business days, it is concluded that neither the original nor the current Custodian’s actions rise to the level of a knowing and willful violation of OPRA and unreasonable denial of access under the totality of the circumstances. However, the original Custodian’s unlawful denial of access to portions of the NJ Historic Trust reports appears negligent and heedless since he is vested with the legal responsibility of granting and denying access in accordance with the law.

Conclusions and Recommendations

The Executive Director respectfully recommends the Council find that:

1. Because the Director of Operations certified that she provided the Complainant with the redacted records on June 6, 2008 as ordered by the Council and provided her certification of compliance to the Executive Director within the five (5) business days as also ordered by the Council, the Custodian has complied with the Council’s May 28, 2008 Interim Order.
2. Because the original Custodian properly responded to the Complainant’s OPRA request in regard to timeliness and form, and provided all records responsive to the Complainant with the exception of the reports from NJ Historic Trust to Commissioner Bass Levin, and even though the original Custodian unlawfully denied access to portions of said reports, because the current Custodian complied with the Council’s May 28, 2008 Interim Order by providing the redacted reports to the Complainant within the ordered five (5) business days, it is concluded that neither the original nor the current Custodian’s actions rise to the level of a knowing and willful violation of OPRA and unreasonable denial of access under the totality of the circumstances. However, the original Custodian’s unlawful denial of access to portions of the NJ Historic Trust reports appears negligent and heedless since he is vested with the legal responsibility of granting and denying access in accordance with the law.

Interim Order of the Government Records Council. At the December 19, 2007 public meeting, the Government Records Council (“Council”) considered the December 12, 2007 Supplemental Findings and Recommendations of the Executive Director and all related documents submitted by the parties. The Council voted to adopt the entirety of said findings and recommendations by majority vote. Therefore, the Council found that:

1. Because the original Custodian provided a written response to the Complainant either granting access or denying access to the requested records within the statutorily mandated seven (7) business days, the original Custodian’s response was proper pursuant to N.J.S.A. 47:1A-5.g. and N.J.S.A. 47:1A-5.i. and thus the original Custodian did not unlawfully deny access to the requested records. Additionally, the current Custodian certifies that although he was not the Custodian at the time of the Complainant’s request, upon his search of agency files, he has not located any records responsive to the Complainant’s request in addition to those provided by the original Custodian.

2. It cannot be determined whether the Custodian has met the burden of proving that the requested records are exempt from disclosure without actually reviewing the records to confirm the Custodian’s legal conclusion. Therefore, it is recommended that the Council conduct an in camera inspection of the confidential reports from NJ Historic Trust to Commissioner Bass Levin dated April 4, 2007; April 11, 2007; April 18, 2007; April 24, 2007; May 2, 2007; May 9, 2007 and May 16, 2007 to determine whether the records are exempt from disclosure in whole or in part because of “advisory, consultative or deliberative material” pursuant to N.J.S.A. 47:1A-1.1.

3. The Custodian must deliver⁴ to the Council in a sealed envelope six copies of the requested unredacted documents (see #2 above), a document or redaction index,⁵ as well as a legal certification from the Custodian, in accordance with N.J. Court Rule 1:4-4, that the documents provided are the documents requested by the Council for the in camera inspection. Such delivery must be received by the GRC within five (5) business days from receipt of the Council’s Interim Order.

4. Because pursuant to MAG Entertainment, LLC v. Div. of Alcoholic Beverage Control, 375 N.J. Super. 53 (App. Div. 2005), public agencies are required under OPRA to disclose only “identifiable” government records not otherwise exempt, and wholesale requests for information are not encompassed therein, the Complainant’s request for answers to those questions set forth by the court in John Paff v. N.J. Department of Labor, 392 N.J. Super. 334 (App. Div. 2007) is an invalid request for information under OPRA. However, the Custodian is required to provide answers to these questions as part of the Custodian’s Statement of Information, as directed by the court in Paff, supra.

Custodian contends the records are exempt from disclosure because they constitute advisory, deliberative or consultative material pursuant to N.J.S.A. 47:1A-1.1.

Analysis

Whether the records are exempt from disclosure in whole or in part because they contain advisory, consultative or deliberative material pursuant to N.J.S.A. 47:1A-1.1?

OPRA places the burden on the Custodian to prove that a denial of access to government records is lawful pursuant to N.J.S.A. 47:1A-6; however, N.J.S.A. 47:1A-1.1 excludes advisory, consultative or deliberative (“ACD”) materials from the definition of a government record. It is evident that this phrase is intended to exclude from the definition of a government record those documents that are the subject of the “deliberative process privilege.”

In O’Shea v. West Milford Board of Education, GRC Complaint No. 2004-93 (April 2006), the Council stated that “neither the statute nor the courts have defined the terms…‘advisory, consultative, or deliberative’ in the context of the public records law. The Council looks to an analogous concept, the deliberative process privilege, for guidance in the implementation of OPRA’s ACD exemption. Both the ACD exemption and the deliberative process privilege enable a governmental entity to shield from disclosure material that is pre-decisional and deliberative in nature. Deliberative material contains opinions, recommendations, or advice about agency policies. Strictly factual segments of an otherwise deliberative document are not exempted from disclosure. In Re the Liquidation of Integrity Insurance Company, 165 N.J. 75, 88 (2000); In re Readoption With Amendments of Death Penalty Regulations, 182 N.J.149 (App. Div. 2004).

The deliberative process privilege is a doctrine that permits government agencies to withhold documents that reflect advisory opinions, recommendations and deliberations submitted as part of a process by which governmental decisions and policies are formulated. NLRB v. Sears, Roebuck & Co., 421 U.S. 132, 150, 95 S. Ct. 1504, 1516, 44 L. Ed. 2d 29, 47 (1975). This long-recognized privilege is rooted in the concept that the sovereign has an interest in protecting the integrity of its deliberations. The earliest federal case adopting the privilege is Kaiser Alum. & Chem. Corp. v. United States, 157 F. Supp. 939 (1958). The privilege and its rationale were subsequently adopted by the federal district courts and circuit courts of appeal. United States v. Farley, 11 F.3d 1385, 1389 (7th Cir.1993).

The deliberative process privilege was discussed at length in In Re Liquidation of Integrity Insurance Co., 165 N.J. 75 (2000). There, the court addressed the question of whether the Commissioner of Insurance, acting in the capacity of Liquidator of a regulated entity, could protect certain records from disclosure which she claimed contained opinions, recommendations or advice regarding agency policy. Id. at 81. The court adopted a qualified deliberative process privilege based upon the holding of McClain v. College Hospital, 99 N.J. 346 (1985), Liquidation of Integrity, supra, 165 N.J. at 88. In doing so, the court noted that:

“[a] document must meet two requirements for the deliberative process privilege to apply. First, it must have been generated before the adoption of an agency's policy or decision. In other words, it must be pre-decisional. …
Second, the document must be deliberative in nature, containing opinions, recommendations, or advice about agency policies. … Purely factual material that does not reflect deliberative processes is not protected.” (Citations omitted.) Id. at 84.

An in camera inspection was performed on the submitted records to determine if the records were comprised of excludable ACD material either in whole or in part. The results of the in camera inspection are set forth in the following table:

7 In the context of this report, it is the GRC’s position that the word “none” written in response to a prompt does not reflect the preparer’s discretionary and deliberative judgment which may result in the preparer’s decision to withhold comment or exclude an issue from consideration by the Commissioner. Rather, it connotes the non-existence of information or comment responsive to the prompt for the time period encompassed by the report. Such usage is not indicative of the deliberative process; therefore, it does not fall within the purview of the ACD exemption.

Interim Order of the Government Records Council. At the December 19, 2007 public meeting, the Government Records Council (“Council”) considered the December 12, 2007 Supplemental Findings and Recommendations of the Executive Director and all related documents submitted by the parties. The Council voted to adopt the entirety of said findings and recommendations by majority vote. Therefore, the Council found that:

1. Because the original Custodian provided a written response to the Complainant either granting access or denying access to the requested records within the statutorily mandated seven (7) business days, the original Custodian’s response was proper pursuant to N.J.S.A. 47:1A-5.g. and N.J.S.A. 47:1A-5.i. and thus the original Custodian did not unlawfully deny access to the requested records. Additionally, the current Custodian certifies that although he was not the Custodian at the time of the Complainant’s request, upon his search of agency files, he has not located any records responsive to the Complainant’s request in addition to those provided by the original Custodian.

2. It cannot be determined whether the Custodian has met the burden of proving that the requested records are exempt from disclosure without actually reviewing the records to confirm the Custodian’s legal conclusion. Therefore, it is recommended that the Council conduct an in camera inspection of the confidential reports from NJ Historic Trust to Commissioner Bass Levin dated April 4, 2007; April 11, 2007; April 18, 2007; April 24, 2007; May 2, 2007; May 9, 2007 and May 16, 2007 to determine whether the records are exempt from disclosure in whole or in part because of “advisory, consultative or deliberative material” pursuant to N.J.S.A. 47:1A-1.1.

3. The Custodian must deliver\(^4\) to the Council in a sealed envelope six copies of the requested unredacted documents (see #2 above), a document or redaction index,\(^5\) as well as a legal certification from the Custodian, in accordance with N.J. Court Rule 1:4-4, that the documents provided are the documents requested by the Council for the in camera inspection. Such delivery must be received by the GRC within five (5) business days from receipt of the Council’s Interim Order.

4. Because pursuant to MAG Entertainment, LLC v. Div. of Alcoholic Beverage Control, 375 N.J. Super. 53 (App. Div. 2005), public agencies are required under OPRA to disclose only “identifiable” government records not otherwise exempt, and wholesale requests for information are not encompassed therein, the Complainant’s request for answers to those questions set forth by the court in John Paff v. N.J. Department of Labor, 392 N.J. Super. 334 (App. Div. 2007) is an invalid request for information under OPRA. However, the Custodian is required to provide answers to these questions as part of the Custodian’s Statement of Information, as directed by the court in Paff, supra.

5. The Council defers analysis of a possible knowing and willful violation of OPRA and unreasonable denial of access under the totality of the circumstances pending the outcome of the in camera review.

Analysis

Whether the records are exempt from disclosure in whole or in part because they contain advisory, consultative or deliberative material pursuant to N.J.S.A. 47:1A-1.1?

OPRA places the burden on the Custodian to prove that a denial of access to government records is lawful pursuant to N.J.S.A. 47:1A-6; however, N.J.S.A. 47:1A-1.1 excludes advisory, consultative or deliberative (“ACD”) materials from the definition of a government record. It is evident that this phrase is intended to exclude from the definition of a government record those documents that are the subject of the “deliberative process privilege.”

In O’Shea v. West Milford Board of Education, GRC Complaint No. 2004-93 (April 2006), the Council stated that “neither the statute nor the courts have defined the terms… ‘advisory, consultative, or deliberative’ in the context of the public records law. The Council looks to an analogous concept, the deliberative process privilege, for guidance in the implementation of OPRA’s ACD exemption. Both the ACD exemption and the deliberative process privilege enable a governmental entity to shield from disclosure material that is pre-decisional and deliberative in nature. Deliberative material contains opinions, recommendations, or advice about agency policies. Strictly factual segments of an otherwise deliberative document are not exempted from disclosure. In Re the Liquidation of Integrity Insurance Company, 165 N.J. 75, 88 (2000); In re Readoption With Amendments of Death Penalty Regulations, 182 N.J.149 (App. Div. 2004).

The deliberative process privilege is a doctrine that permits government agencies to withhold documents that reflect advisory opinions, recommendations and deliberations submitted as part of a process by which governmental decisions and policies are formulated. NLRB v. Sears, Roebuck & Co., 421 U.S. 132, 150, 95 S. Ct. 1504, 1516, 44 L. Ed. 2d 29, 47 (1975). This long-recognized privilege is rooted in the concept that the sovereign has an interest in protecting the integrity of its deliberations. The earliest federal case adopting the privilege is Kaiser Alum. & Chem. Corp. v. United States, 157 F. Supp. 939 (1958). The privilege and its rationale were subsequently adopted by the federal district courts and circuit courts of appeal. United States v. Farley, 11 F.3d 1385, 1389 (7th Cir.1993).

The deliberative process privilege was discussed at length in In Re Liquidation of Integrity Insurance Co., 165 N.J. 75 (2000). There, the court addressed the question of whether the Commissioner of Insurance, acting in the capacity of Liquidator of a regulated entity, could protect certain records from disclosure which she claimed contained opinions, recommendations or advice regarding agency policy. Id. at 81. The court adopted a qualified deliberative process privilege based upon the holding of McClain v. College Hospital, 99 N.J. 346 (1985), Liquidation of Integrity, supra, 165 N.J. at 88. In doing so, the court noted that:

“[a] document must meet two requirements for the deliberative process privilege to apply. First, it must have been generated before the adoption of an agency's policy or decision. In other words, it must be pre-decisional. …
Second, the document must be deliberative in nature, containing opinions, recommendations, or advice about agency policies. … Purely factual material that does not reflect deliberative processes is not protected.” (Citations omitted.) Id. at 84.

An in camera inspection was performed on the submitted records to determine if the records were comprised of excludable ACD material either in whole or in part. The results of the in camera inspection are set forth in the following table:

In the context of this report, it is the GRC’s position that the word “none” written in response to a prompt does not reflect the preparer’s discretionary and deliberative judgment which may result in the preparer’s decision to withhold comment or exclude an issue from consideration by the Commissioner. Rather, it connotes the non-existence of information or comment responsive to the prompt for the time period encompassed by the report. Such usage is not indicative of the deliberative process; therefore, it does not fall within the purview of the ACD exemption.
