FINAL DECISION

June 27, 2023 Government Records Council Meeting

Rotimi Owoh, Esq. (o/b/o African American Data & Research Institute)
Complainant

Complaint No. 2021-263

v.
City of Garfield Police Department (Bergen)
Custodian of Record

At the June 27, 2023 public meeting, the Government Records Council (“Council”) considered the June 20, 2023 Findings and Recommendations of the Executive Director and all related documentation submitted by the parties. The Council voted unanimously to adopt the entirety of said findings and recommendations. The Council, therefore, finds that:

1. Recognizing that the Custodian’s October 29, 2021 response to the Complainant’s August 23, 2021 OPRA request is no longer a lawful denial pursuant to Libertarians for Transparent Gov’t v. Cumberland Cnty., 250 N.J. 46, 56-57 (2022); his response was nonetheless lawful at that time because it was consistent with the prevailing case law prior to the Court’s ruling. N.J.S.A. 47:1A-6; Libertarians for Transparent Gov’t v. Cumberland Cnty., 465 N.J. Super. 11 (App. Div. 2020); Moore v. N.J. Dep’t of Corr., GRC Complaint No. 2009-144 (Interim Order dated October 26, 2010). Thus, the Council declines to order disclosure here.
2. The Complainant has not achieved the desired result because the complaint did not bring about a change (voluntary or otherwise) in the custodian’s conduct. Teeters v. DYFS, 387 N.J. Super. 423, 432 (App. Div. 2006). Additionally, no factual causal nexus exists between the Complainant’s filing of a Denial of Access Complaint and the relief ultimately achieved. Mason v. City of Hoboken and City Clerk of the City of Hoboken, 196 N.J. 51, 76 (2008). Specifically, the evidence of record supports that the Custodian’s response was lawful at the time. Therefore, the Complainant is not a prevailing party entitled to an award of a reasonable attorney’s fee. See N.J.S.A. 47:1A-6, Teeters, 387 N.J. Super. at 432, and Mason, 196 N.J. at 76.

This is the final administrative determination in this matter. Any further review should be pursued in the Appellate Division of the Superior Court of New Jersey within forty-five (45) days. Information about the appeals process can be obtained from the Appellate Division Clerk’s Office, Hughes Justice Complex, 25 W. Market St., PO Box 006, Trenton, NJ 08625-0006. Proper service of submissions pursuant to any appeal is to be made to the Council in care of the Executive Director at the State of New Jersey Government Records Council, 101 South Broad Street, PO Box 819, Trenton, NJ 08625-0819.

Custodian of Record: Erin Delaney

Request Received by Custodian: August 23, 2021

Response Made by Custodian: October 29, 2021

GRC Complaint Received: November 3, 2021

Background⁴

Request and Response:

On August 23, 2021, the Complainant submitted an Open Public Records Act (“OPRA”) request to the Custodian seeking the above-mentioned records. On October 14, 2021,⁵ the Custodian responded in writing providing a spreadsheet containing the requested personnel information for separated officers. Regarding settlements, the Custodian denied access to ² Represented by Robert A. Ferraro, Esq., of Bruno & Ferraro, Esqs. (Rutherford, NJ).

³ The Complainant sought additional records that are not at issue in this complaint.

⁴ The parties may have submitted additional correspondence or made additional statements/assertions in the submissions identified herein. However, the Council includes in the Findings and Recommendations of the Executive Director the submissions necessary and relevant for the adjudication of this complaint.

⁵ The Custodian asserted that an extension of time was sought, but neither party provided correspondence confirming same.

settlement agreements relating to internal, non-public disciplinary matters. The Custodian stated that she was not required to provide the surrounding circumstances which caused the employee to retire or resign, citing Libertarians for Transparent Gov't v. Ocean Cnty. Prosecutor's Office, 2018 N.J. Super. Unpub. LEXIS 25 (App. Div.) cert. denied, 235 N.J. 407 (2018).

Denial of Access Complaint:

On November 3, 2021, the Complainant filed a Denial of Access Complaint with the Government Records Council ("GRC"). The Complainant asserted that the provided records did not provide the "real" reasons for separation. The Complainant contended that simply stating "terminated", "resigned", or "retired," was insufficient under N.J.S.A. 47:1A-10.

The Complainant requested that the GRC compel the Custodian to comply fully with the OPRA request and award counsel fees.

Statement of Information:

On November 12, 2021, the Custodian filed a Statement of Information ("SOI"). The Custodian certified that she received the Complainant's OPRA request on August 23, 2021. The Custodian certified that her search included retrieving personnel information from the City of Garfield's ("City") Payroll Department, and searching the Payroll Department, Police Department, city attorneys, and joint insurance fund for responsive settlement agreements. The Custodian certified she responded in writing on October 29, 2021, providing a spreadsheet containing the requested information and denying access to the settlement agreements.

The Custodian maintained that OPRA did not require a public body to disclose information about the circumstances surrounding an employee's termination. See Libertarians, slip op.

Analysis

Unlawful Denial of Access

OPRA provides that government records made, maintained, kept on file, or received by a public agency in the course of its official business are subject to public access unless otherwise exempt. N.J.S.A. 47:1A-1.1. A custodian must release all records responsive to an OPRA request "with certain exceptions." N.J.S.A. 47:1A-1. Additionally, OPRA places the burden on a custodian to prove that a denial of access to records is lawful pursuant to N.J.S.A. 47:1A-6.

Generally, the GRC does not retroactively apply court decisions to complaints pursuant to Gibbons v. Gibbons, 86 N.J. 515 (1981). There the Court held that "it is a fundamental principle of jurisprudence that retroactive application of new laws involves a high risk of being unfair." Id. at 522. In Moore v. N.J. Dep't of Corr., GRC Complaint No. 2009-144 (Interim Order dated October 26, 2010), the custodian denied access to responsive records in 2009 based upon a then existing Executive Order, the custodial agency's proposed regulations, and prior Council decisions relying on same. During the pendency of the complaint, the Appellate Division in 2010 reversed a separate Council decision relying on the Executive Order and proposed regulations. The Council held that while the custodian's basis for denial was no longer valid, the denial was not unlawful since at the time the request was consistent with prior GRC case law. See also Biss v. Borough of New Providence Police Dep't (Union), GRC Complaint No. 2009-21 (February 2010); Sallie v. N.J. Dep't of Law & Public Safety, Div. of Criminal Justice, GRC Complaint No. 2008-21 (Interim Order dated June 23, 2009).

In the instant matter, the Complainant requested the "[n]ames, date of hire, date of separation and reason for separation and salary of individuals who either resigned or were terminated from your police department from 2008 to the present" on August 23, 2021. The Complainant also requested any settlement agreements entered between the City and any separated officer. On October 29, 2021, the Custodian provided responsive records, but withheld access to internal settlement agreements pursuant to Libertarians, slip. op.

At the time of the Complainant's OPRA request and the City's October 29, 2021 response, Libertarians, 465 N.J. Super. 11 was the precedential decision on an agency's obligation to disclose personnel records containing information subject to disclosure under N.J.S.A. 47:1A-10 ("Section 10"). In that case, the plaintiffs discovered through meeting minutes that a corrections officer was involved in a misconduct investigation along with several other officers. Id. at 13-14. The officer was originally going to be terminated but was allowed to "retire in good standing" after cooperating with the investigation in accordance with a settlement agreement. Id. The plaintiffs then submitted an OPRA request seeking the settlement agreement referenced in the minutes, and the officer's "name, title, position, salary, length of service, date of separation and the reason therefore" in accordance with Section 10. Id. The defendants declined to provide the settlement agreement, claiming it was a personnel record exempt from access. Id.

The plaintiffs challenged the denial of access to the settlement agreement, asserting that the defendants "misrepresent[ed] the 'reason' for Ellis's separation from public employment" and improperly withheld a government record. Id. at 15. The trial court ordered disclosure of the settlement agreement with redactions, and the Appellate Division reversed, finding that the record was exempt as a personnel record under Section 10.

During the pendency of this complaint, the New Jersey Supreme Court reversed the Appellate Division and ordered disclosure of the settlement agreement with redactions. Libertarians, 250 N.J. 46. The Court found that under OPRA, custodians were required to disclose the actual records containing the information required to be disclosed under Section 10. Id. at 56. The Court thus held that because the requested settlement agreement contained Section 10 information, the defendants were obligated to disclose the record with appropriate redactions. Id. at 57.

Since this Denial of Access Complaint was filed before the Libertarians decision, the GRC must determine the applicable law at the time of the response. See Moore, GRC 2009-144. Here, the Custodian responded on October 29, 2021, providing the requested information pursuant to Section 10. In the SOI, the Custodian argued that internal, non-public settlement agreements were withheld pursuant to prior case law, and she was not obligated to provide those agreements containing the reasons for separation. Since the Custodian responded prior to the Supreme Court's decision, the City was not obligated to provide the Complainant with the withheld settlement agreements which contained the “reasons” for separation. See Libertarians, 465 N.J. Super. 11; Moore, GRC 2009-144.

Therefore, recognizing that the Custodian’s October 29, 2021 response to the Complainant’s August 23, 2021 OPRA request is no longer a lawful denial pursuant to Libertarians, 250 N.J. at 56-57; her response was nonetheless lawful at that time because it was consistent with the prevailing case law prior to the Court’s ruling. N.J.S.A. 47:1A-6; Libertarians, 465 N.J. Super. 11; Moore, GRC 2009-144. Thus, the Council declines to order disclosure here.

Prevailing Party Attorney’s Fees

OPRA provides that:

A person who is denied access to a government record by the custodian of the record, at the option of the requestor, may: institute a proceeding to challenge the custodian's decision by filing an action in Superior Court . . .; or in lieu of filing an action in Superior Court, file a complaint with the Government Records Council . . . A requestor who prevails in any proceeding shall be entitled to a reasonable attorney's fee.

[N.J.S.A. 47:1A-6.]

In Teeters v. DYFS, 387 N.J. Super. 423 (App. Div. 2006), the Appellate Division held that a complainant is a “prevailing party” if he achieves the desired result because the complaint brought about a change (voluntary or otherwise) in the custodian’s conduct. Id. at 432. Additionally, the court held that attorney’s fees may be awarded when the requestor is successful (or partially successful) via a judicial decree, a quasi-judicial determination, or a settlement of the parties that indicates access was improperly denied and the requested records are disclosed. Id.

Additionally, the New Jersey Supreme Court has ruled on the issue of “prevailing party” attorney’s fees. In Mason v. City of Hoboken and City Clerk of the City of Hoboken, 196 N.J. 51, 71 (2008), the Court discussed the catalyst theory, “which posits that a plaintiff is a ‘prevailing party’ if it achieves the desired result because the lawsuit brought about a voluntary change in the defendant’s conduct” (quoting Buckhannon Bd. & Care Home v. West Virginia Dep’t of Health & Human Res., 532 U.S. 598, 131 S. Ct. 1835, 149 L. Ed. 2d 855 (2001)). In Buckhannon, the Supreme Court held that the phrase “prevailing party” is a legal term of art that refers to a “party in whose favor a judgment is rendered.” Id. at 603 (quoting Black’s Law Dictionary 1145 (7th ed. 1999)). The Supreme Court rejected the catalyst theory as a basis for prevailing party attorney fees, in part because “[i]t allows an award where there is no judicially sanctioned change in the legal relationship of the parties . . .” Id. at 605, 121 S. Ct. at 1840, 149 L. Ed. 2d at 863. Further, the Supreme Court expressed concern that the catalyst theory would spawn extra litigation over attorney's fees. Id. at 609, 121 S. Ct. at 1843, 149 L. Ed. 2d at 866.

However, the Court noted in Mason that Buckhannon is binding only when counsel fee provisions under federal statutes are at issue. 196 N.J. at 72, citing Teeters, 387 N.J. Super. at 429; see, e.g., Baer v. Klagholz, 346 N.J. Super. 79 (App. Div. 2001) (applying Buckhannon to the federal Individuals with Disabilities Education Act), certif. denied, 174 N.J. 193 (2002). “But in interpreting New Jersey law, we look to state law precedent and the specific state statute before us. When appropriate, we depart from the reasoning of federal cases that interpret comparable federal statutes.” 196 N.J. at 73 (citations omitted).

The Mason Court accepted the application of the catalyst theory within the context of OPRA, stating that:

OPRA itself contains broader language on attorney's fees than the former RTKL did. OPRA provides that “[a] requestor who prevails in any proceeding shall be entitled to a reasonable attorney's fee.” N.J.S.A. 47:1A-6. Under the prior RTKL, “[a] plaintiff in whose favor such an order [requiring access to public records] issues . . . may be awarded a reasonable attorney's fee not to exceed $500.00.” N.J.S.A. 47:1A-4 (repealed 2002). The Legislature's revisions therefore: (1) mandate, rather than permit, an award of attorney's fees to a prevailing party; and (2) eliminate the $500 cap on fees and permit a reasonable, and quite likely higher, fee award. Those changes expand counsel fee awards under OPRA.

[196 N.J. at 73-76.]

The Court in Mason, further held that:

[R]equestors are entitled to attorney's fees under OPRA, absent a judgment or an enforceable consent decree, when they can demonstrate (1) “a factual causal nexus between plaintiff's litigation and the relief ultimately achieved”; and (2) “that the relief ultimately secured by plaintiffs had a basis in law.” Singer v. State, 95 N.J. 487, 495, cert. denied, New Jersey v. Singer, 469 U.S. 832 (1984).

[Id. at 76.]

Here, the Complainant sought “[n]ames, date of hire, date of separation and reason for separation, salary at the time of separation who either resigned or retired or terminated or otherwise separated from 2008 to the present,” as well as any “agreement” providing the “reason for separation.” The Custodian provided a list which stated the “reason for separation” for the officers, along with the other Section 10 information. The Complainant then filed the instant complaint on October 29, 2021, asserting the Custodian failed to provide the “real reason” for the officers' separations. On March 7, 2022, the Court overturned the Appellate Division in Libertarians, 250 N.J. 46. However, because the Custodian's denial of access was proper at the time of the response, the Complainant has not achieved the desired result and is not a prevailing party in this complaint.

Therefore, the Complainant has not achieved the desired result because the complaint did not bring about a change (voluntary or otherwise) in the custodian's conduct. Teeters, 387 N.J. Super. at 432. Additionally, no factual causal nexus exists between the Complainant's filing of a Denial of Access Complaint and the relief ultimately achieved. Mason, 196 N.J. at 76. Specifically, the evidence of record supports that the Custodian's response was lawful at the time. Therefore, the Complainant is not a prevailing party entitled to an award of a reasonable attorney's fee. See N.J.S.A. 47:1A-6, Teeters, 387 N.J. Super. at 432, and Mason, 196 N.J. at 76.

Conclusions and Recommendations

The Executive Director respectfully recommends the Council find that:

1. Recognizing that the Custodian's October 29, 2021 response to the Complainant's August 23, 2021 OPRA request is no longer a lawful denial pursuant to Libertarians for Transparent Gov't v. Cumberland Cnty., 250 N.J. 46, 56-57 (2022); his response was nonetheless lawful at that time because it was consistent with the prevailing case law prior to the Court's ruling. N.J.S.A. 47:1A-6; Libertarians for Transparent Gov't v. Cumberland Cnty., 465 N.J. Super. 11 (App. Div. 2020); Moore v. N.J. Dep't of Corr., GRC Complaint No. 2009-144 (Interim Order dated October 26, 2010). Thus, the Council declines to order disclosure here.
2. The Complainant has not achieved the desired result because the complaint did not bring about a change (voluntary or otherwise) in the custodian's conduct. Teeters v. DYFS, 387 N.J. Super. 423, 432 (App. Div. 2006). Additionally, no factual causal nexus exists between the Complainant's filing of a Denial of Access Complaint and the relief ultimately achieved. Mason v. City of Hoboken and City Clerk of the City of Hoboken, 196 N.J. 51, 76 (2008). Specifically, the evidence of record supports that the Custodian's response was lawful at the time. Therefore, the Complainant is not a prevailing party entitled to an award of a reasonable attorney's fee. See N.J.S.A. 47:1A-6, Teeters, 387 N.J. Super. at 432, and Mason, 196 N.J. at 76.
