

STATE ANIMAL

The State animal is the horse, (Equus Caballus), designated in 1977 by former Governor Brendan Byrne. At that time, New Jersey had more than 38,000 horses and 4,654 horse farms, of which 888 were involved in developing race horses.