New Jersey RID 2006 Biennial Conference A Success

The New Jersey chapter of the Registry of Interpreters for the Deaf, Inc. (NJRID) held its 2006 biennial conference March 24 - 26 at the Sheraton Edison Hotel, Raritan Center. The three days began on Friday evening with opening remarks and a keynote delivered by the RID Region I Representative Rachel Coppelli. Ms. Coppelli's comments brought the audience up to date on the current state of RID, including some of her own personal comments of what drew her to this type of service to the organization.

The conference program reflected talent and resources from national, regional and local levels for the nearly 200 registrants in attendance. Saturday morning's workshops included Taking a Good Hard Look at ME led by Gary Sanderson.

This workshop addressed how interpreters can improve their work together by taking responsibility for their own individual actions. Demand-Control Schema is currently a very popular workshop throughout the country and NJRID was fortunate to have Robyn Dean's presentation at this year's conference. In this three part workshop, Dean dispels several popular myths about the work of interpreting including the notion that interpreters are not active and influential participants in the communication event for which they're interpreting. Interpreting's Most Outrageous Moments was presented by Alan R. Abarbanell.

This highly participatory and interactive session developed skills to problem-solve real life issues which can arise in the work setting. Joan L. Cohen

Deaf Children See Moses Sees A Play Signed By Lorello

The New Jersey Library for the Blind and Handicapped (NJLBH), a division of the New Jersey State Library, held its monthly Children's ASL Story Hour on March 14. Deaf storyteller Camille Lorello, a former actress with the National Theatre of the Deaf Storyteller Camille Lorello

Deaf for 15 years, signed the Deaf Culture children's book, Moses Sees A Play by Isaac Millman, in honor of Deaf History Month.

After Mrs. Lorello's presentation, she conducted some fun activities with selected students from the Marie H. Katzenbach School for the Deaf (MKSD) and other hearing schools such as the Greenville and Ramtown Schools in Howell, NJ. For example, she picked three students from MKSD and together they acted out a cobra and a dog. Two students were the cobra's head and tail, the other student was a dog and Mrs. Lorello portrayed a tree. Afterward, she talked about her experiences with the Little Theater of the Deaf (LTD) and other drama groups accompanied by a PowerPoint presentation. The audience really enjoyed it.

The story hour was not just attended by the students who normally attend from grades two through five from the MKSD, home-schooled hearing children, and students with multiple disabilities from three classes at the Hunterdon County ESC School in Lambertville.

Surprisingly, children from the Greenville and Ramtown schools, as well as older students interested in learning sign language also came. They included students from North Hunterdon High School, Camden County College, Ocean County College, The College of NJ and Union County College. They also had an enjoyable time interacting with Pete Campione's therapy dogs.

With 100 people present, the story hour was a huge success. Mrs. Lorello was an expressive storyteller who gave a moving account of her personal experiences with the LTD. This story hour was signed by ASL interpreters provided by the NJ Division of the Deaf and Hard of Hearing, a division of the New Jersey Department of Human Services, and accompanied by a PowerPoint presentation illustrating each page along with the storyteller. The story hour promotes English literacy skills for the Deaf and Hard of Hearing by enabling them to simultaneously enjoy ASL and English versions of books.

Workshops and events such as the story hour are scheduled by Christine Olsen, Coordinator of the Deaf and Hard of Hearing Awareness Program at the New Jersey Library for the Blind and Handicapped. and Rachel E. Owens, from New Jersey, presented Educational Interpreting: The Whole Product. This workshop generated discussion about the state of the art of educational interpreting in New Jersey and the U.S. as well as some insights into the future.

Presenter Robyn Dean

it Down: Voicing Made Easier in which tools were offered for participants to practice voicing by looking at non-manuals and sentence production. Keeping It Safe was presented by Jerry Brennan who addressed potentially dangerous work settings in which interpreters may find themselves and how to watch out for one's own safety. Michael Canale and Debbie Olsen presented Interpreting in the VRS Environment addressing the challenges faced in the video relay setting as well as the opportunity for professional growth which it can offer an interpreter.

After the morning sessions, lunch was provided to the conference registrants while individual committee members as well as convention sponsors were recognized. This was followed with comments by Chris Tester from the New Jersey State Division of Civil Rights.

The day ended with a banquet that included an excellent buffet followed by recognition of the tremendous amount of work it took to produce the conference. The evening closed with The Abababa Road Tour, a one man show presented by Alan Abarbanell in which he portrays an array of characters drawing from the many Deaf and hearing individuals he remembers, growing up as a child of deaf adults (Coda) The performance was both funny and moving and evoked reactions in the audience ranging from laughter (at some of the larger than life portrayals of characters within the show) to tears at some of the more poignant moments in the piece. There were mixed emotions expressed with regards to hearing Alan's use of "Deaf Voice", an often controversial aspect of his work which Abarbanell is accustomed to addressing in this popular show. Afterwards, winners of the auction that had been held for the past two days were announced with many individuals walking away with more in their hands than when they came.

Mariann Jacobson introduces the Keynote Speaker

Sunday morning's workshops included Sore Thumb Theory of Interpreting in which presenter Gary Sanderson offered, in an often comical way, some pragmatic and common sense solutions to predicaments an interpreter can encounter on the job. In "Uh-oh, Do I Say Anything?", Jody Gill presented and solicited a series of scenarios from the mental health and medical settings for participants to explore challenges, dilemmas, ethical implications and options for how best to address them. The Interpreter as Businessperson led by presenter Dr.

Presenter Gary Sanderson

Daniel Swartz was geared to private practice/freelance interpreters and addressed the business aspects of being an interpreter entrepreneur.

The Division of the Deaf and Hard of Hearing was a Presidential Sponsor because of their provision of sign language interpreters for the conference. Under the leadership of conference co-chairs Peggy Klotz and Daniel Swartz and the hard work of many members of the local chapter, NJRID showed once again their ability to produce a successful conference.

Keynote Speaker Rachel Coppelli, RID Region I Representative

Mt. Pleasant Animal Shelter

An Animal Placement and Community Resource Center

Sign Language Interpreter Offers Free Services For Pet Adoption

By Benay Quadrel, CI CT

If you have thought about adopting a dog, cat or other pet, now is the time. Spring is here and think about how wonderful it would be to share the nice weather with a cozy pet. Please visit the Mt. Pleasant Animal Shelter, 194 Rt. 10 West, East Hanover, NJ 07936. They have many great pets and you might find the right one for you.

The shelter has two large rooms for cats and kittens and a spacious kennel for dogs and puppies. Adoption hours are Tuesday 12 p.m. - 7 p.m., Wednesday and Thursday 12 p.m. - 4 p.m., Friday 12 p.m. - 4:30 p.m., Saturday 12 p.m. - 5 p.m. and Sunday 12 p.m. - 4:30 p.m. You will be very surprised to see how well it is maintained. You can see all the animals in person and hopefully find the one that's right for you. Don't wait, they go fast. If you see a pet you are interested in, you can e-mail Benay Quadrel at benayhere@tmail.com and we can schedule an appointment.

There is a process for adoption, which includes filling out an application and an interview with the shelter staff. This process must be completed in order to receive approval to adopt a pet. If you need interpreter services, arrangements have been made with the shelter to provide those services for you at no charge. Yes, free!

Mt. Pleasant Animal Shelter often gets new pets; dogs, puppies, cats, kittens and some other animals too. Please visit <http://www.njshelter.org>. If you have any questions about the shelter, you may contact Nicole Drummond at nicole@njshelter.org, or Alli Powers at alli@njshelter.org.

Benay Quadrel, Nationally Certified Sign Language Interpreter, may be contacted at: (973) 402-1686 - V/TTY, (973) 299-3945 FAX, BenayHere@aol.com or benayhere@tmail.com.

Hearing Awareness Day in New Egypt

Saturday, May 20, 10:15 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

at the Plumsted Township Library, 119 Evergreen Road, New Egypt, NJ

Co-sponsored by: Association of Late-Deafened Adults, Garden State Chapter, The NJDHS Division of the Deaf and Hard of Hearing, and NJ Relay Service

A presentation will be given by the NJDHS Division of the Deaf and Hard of Hearing Field Representative Jason Weiland. His Power Point program will include:

Assistive Listening Devices - (infrared and FM);
Assistive Alerting and other technology for people with hearing loss;
Resources available through the NJDHS Division of the Deaf and Hard of Hearing; and,

NJ Relay Service: Account Manager Aparna Lele will present information about its CapTel service. CapTel (Captioned Telephone) is a new telephone technology which allows people with hearing loss to receive word-for-word captions of their telephone conversations. It is similar in concept to captioned television, where spoken words appear as printed text for viewers to read. The CapTel telephone looks and works like any traditional phone, with callers talking and listening to each other and provided live for every phone call. If you are among those who cannot effectively use a telephone because of hearing loss, come and see this new technology!

Assistive Listening Devices, Captioning (Computer Assisted Real Time) Service and Sign Language Interpreters will be available. Anyone with hearing loss and/or associates wanting to learn more about connecting with others through today's assistive technology should attend. Light refreshments will be served. Seats are limited, so you must register first for this free, public program at the library.
