Text

Listing of Persons Prohibited from Contracting with Any Public Body Due to a Violation of State Wage, Benefit, or Tax Laws

Proposed: May 17, 2021, at 53 N.J.R. 766(a).

Adopted: February 7, 2022, by Robert Asaro-Angelo, Commissioner, Department of Labor and Workforce Development.

Filed: February 7, 2022, as R.2022 d.032, without change.

Authority: N.J.S.A. 34:1-20 and 34:1A-1.16.

Effective Date: March 7, 2022.

Expiration Date: March 7, 2029.

Summary of Hearing Officer's Recommendation and Agency's Response:

After reviewing the written comments submitted directly to the Department of Labor and Workforce Development's (Department) Office of Legal and Regulatory Services, the hearing officer, David Fish, Executive Director, Legal and Regulatory Services, recommended that the Department proceed with the new rules without change.

Summary of Public Comments and Agency Responses:

Written comments were submitted by Ray Cantor, Vice President of Government Affairs, New Jersey Business and Industry Association, Trenton, NJ.

COMMENT: The commenter observes that with the proposed new rules, "the Department is largely implementing the legislative mandate in [N.J.S.A. 34:1A-1.16]," but adds, "we also believe that these proposed rules can be burdensome and overly punitive to impacted businesses." The commenter explains that the online posting of persons prohibited from contracting with any public body due to a violation of State wage, benefit or tax laws, "can result in an immediate loss of revenue opportunities for businesses barred from receiving public contracts," adding, "[although] the statute includes measures to avoid, remove or appeal postings, which may mitigate some short-term losses, there will likely be lingering reputational damage."

The commenter observes that proposed N.J.A.C. 12:8-3.1(b) contains a list of factors to be considered by the Commissioner when determining whether to place a person on the list of those prohibited from contracting with any public body due to a violation of State wage, benefit, or tax laws, acknowledging that the list is taken verbatim from N.J.S.A. 34:1A-1.16.g. Nevertheless, the commenter asserts that the proposed new rule provides "no objective criteria to guide the Commissioner" in the exercise of his or her discretion to place a person on the list.

The commenter encourages the Commissioner to "use heightened discretion regarding the public posting of names to the online list due to the significant financial implications for these businesses," adding, "[w]hen the Commissioner does decide to post a name, the rational [sic] for that decision, based on the factors listed in the law and regulations, should also be detailed."

Finally, the commenter suggests "that a stay be put in place if a business requests a hearing on the Commissioner's decision to post, or if the business has contested the final order to the Appellate Division or other appropriate entity."

RESPONSE: As the commenter correctly observes, the proposed new rules mirror N.J.S.A. 34:1A-1.16, which expressly empowers the Department to post to a list on the Department's website of persons prohibited from contracting with any public body, the name of any person found to be in violation of any State wage, benefit, or tax laws when a final order to that effect has been issued against the person by the Commissioner or other appropriate agency officer. The statute defines the terms "State wage, benefit and tax laws," and "final order," among other terms, and the Department's regulatory definitions for each of the terms defined within the statute is taken verbatim from the statute. The factors set forth in the proposed new rules to be considered by the Department when determining whether to place a person on the above-mentioned list are taken verbatim from the statute. The form of notice, the right to request a hearing, the time limit to request a hearing, the procedure for avoiding the placement of a person's name on the list prior to the anticipated date for posting, the procedure for removal of a person's name from the list, are all contained in the statute and are all reflected either verbatim or near verbatim in the proposed new rules. Thus, the Department must decline to act on the commenter's suggestion that the Department apply some unspecified "objective" criteria to the question of whether to place a person's name on the list, separate and apart from the factors expressly set forth in the statute, which are reflected verbatim at proposed new N.J.A.C. 12:8-3.1(b)1 through 9. Specifically, both N.J.S.A. 34:1A-1.16.g(1) through (9) and proposed N.J.A.C. 12:8-3.1(b)1 through 9 state that the Commissioner shall consider the following factors as material in each decision to place a person on the list:

- (1) The record of previous violations;
- (2) Previous placement on the list by the Commissioner;
- (3) The frequency of violations by the person discovered in previous or still pending cases;
- (4) The significance or scale of the violations;
- (5) The existence of failure to pay;
- (6) Failure to cooperate or respond to a request to produce records, forms, documents, or proof of payments;
- (7) Submission of falsified or altered records, forms, documents, or proof of payment;

- (8) Failure to provide goods or services; and
- (9) Failure to comply with contract specifications.

Incidentally, all but one of these criteria are, in fact, objective, and the one subjective criterion; namely, criterion 4, "[t]he significance or scale of the violations," is entirely appropriate for inclusion on this list, as it, or some variation on it, appears in every list of factors within Title 12 of the New Jersey Administrative Code to be considered by the Commissioner when determining the appropriate penalty or sanction to be imposed for a violation of law or rule. For example, N.J.A.C. 12:55-1.6(c), which contains factors to be considered by the Commissioner when assessing an administrative penalty for a violation(s) of the New Jersey Wage Payment Law, N.J.S.A. 34:11-4.1 et seq., lists as its first factor, "[t]he seriousness of the violations;" N.J.A.C. 12:56-1.3(c), which contains factors to be considered by the Commissioner when assessing an administrative penalty for a violation(s) of the New Jersey Wage and Hour Law, N.J.S.A. 34:11-56.a et seq., lists as its first factor, "[t]he seriousness of the violation"; and N.J.A.C. 12:60-8.3(c), which contains factors to be considered by the Commissioner when assessing an administrative penalty for a violation(s) of the New Jersey Prevailing Wage Act, N.J.S.A. 34:11-56.25 et seq., lists as its first factor, "[t]he seriousness of the violation."

As to the commenter's suggestion regarding what should be contained within the Notice of Intent, the contents of the Notice of Intent set forth at N.J.A.C. 12:8-3.1(c), like the criteria to be used when determining whether to place a person's name on the list set forth at N.J.A.C. 12:8-3.1(b) and discussed above, are taken directly from the statute; specifically, from N.J.S.A. 34:1A-1.16(e). The Department has no discretion to deviate from the statute.

Regarding the commenter's assertion that the proposed new rules should provide that a stay will be ordered on the placement of a person's name on the list in the event that that person requests a hearing in response to the Notice of Intent, is not necessary as the proposed new rules in their current form already embody the principle that a person's name will not be placed on the list after receipt of the Notice of Intent when a timely request for a hearing has been made, until the hearing has been conducted and a final administrative determination has been issued. That is, the name of a person who has received a Notice of Intent will only be placed on the list when either: (1) he or she has received the Notice of Intent and has failed to file a timely request for a hearing; (2) he or she has received the Notice of Intent and has expressly waived the right to a hearing (or has withdrawn a previously submitted request for a hearing); or (3) when a timely request for a hearing has been made after receipt of the Notice of [page=447] Intent, the hearing has been concluded, and a final administrative determination has been issued ordering placement of the person's name on the list.
