108th Civil Engineers train during October drill

During the October drill weekend, the 108th Civil Engineer Squadron spent both days training at the Joint Training and Training Development Center at Fort Dix and Saturday evening sleeping in the great outdoors.

Bivouac training is required every 40 months for the CE Airmen and this cycle's training was held at home station. The squadron members pitched tents on the grassy area around their buildings, giving them training in tent erection and tear down as well as a sleeping area for the night.

To give the Airmen the required combat skills training, 108th CES bussed them to the JT2DC where they worked on the various skills they can use during their real-life missions. The Airmen used the convoy training trailer, worked with two New Jersey Army Guardsmen on the VICE (Virtual Interactive Combat Environment) system and made use of the urban, desert and wooded training areas in the building.

Enthusiasm and smiles were in full force of the squadron members going through the JT2DC. The sentiment expressed by the Airman who said, "good stuff, definitely fun," was echoed by many.

First annual Jack Green Memorial Run held at 177th

More than 200 runners participated in the 1st Annual Jack Green Memorial Run at the 177th Fighter Wing this past Sunday. The crowded pack of individuals at the starting line gradually thinned out to a steady stream of sprinters, runners, joggers and walkers. Lori Green brought her son Jake to witness the race, and offer deeply felt words to all gathered there.

Coming in first place in the 5k run was Liam Dingman, son of Avionics member Tech. Sgt. William Dingman. Taking first place in the women's category was the Wing Executive Officer, Capt. Yvonne Mays. Col. Randall King, 177th commander, was pacing himself somewhere in the middle of the pack..."as a safety observer" or so he claimed. An avid runner himself, Col. King did emphasize safety to all participants and stressed the fun aspect of the event as well as the good cause for which it was being held.

Money raised by the run will benefit an educational fund for Jake Green, as well as being held in a trust to be used during future emergencies that might impact unit members and their families.

Halloween safety tips

From the desk of Sgt. Maj. Nick Kampf, Safety and Occupational Health, NJARNG and the National Safety Council

Halloween is a cherished tradition but the excitement of the night can cause children to forget to be careful. There is no real “trick” to making Halloween a real treat for the entire family. The major dangers are not from witches or spirits but rather from falls and pedestrian/car crashes. Here are some tips to keep the fun in Halloween.

Motorists:

- ❖ Watch for children darting out from between parked cars.
- ❖ Enter and exit driveways and alleys carefully.
- ❖ As the day darkens, watch for children in dark clothing.

Parents:

- ❖ Make sure an adult or older responsible youth is accompanying children under the age of 12.
- ❖ Instruct your children to travel only in familiar areas and along an established route.
- ❖ Teach children to stop only at houses that are well-lit and never enter a stranger’s home.
- ❖ Tell children not to eat any treats until they return home.

Costume design:

- ❖ Costumes should be loose so warm clothing can be worn underneath.
- ❖ Costumes should not be so long they are a tripping hazard.
- ❖ Strips of reflective tape should be used to make children visible.

Masks:

- ❖ Masks can obstruct a child’s vision, Use facial make-up instead.
- ❖ If masks are worn, they should have nose and mouth openings and large eye holes.

Accessories:

- ❖ Knives, swords and other accessories should be made from cardboard or flexible materials.
- ❖ Carrying flashlights will help children see better and be seen more clearly.

On the way:

- ❖ Children should walk, not run from house to house. Do not cross yards and lawns where unseen objects or uneven terrain can present tripping hazards.

Forum for educators held at NJVVMF

By Sibley Smith, Director of Education, Vietnam Era Educational Center

On Oct. 19, the New Jersey Vietnam Veterans' Memorial Foundation with assistance from the Department of Military and Veterans Affairs held its annual, all-day, multi-speaker, Interdisciplinary Forum on the Vietnam Era at the Vietnam Era Educational Center and the nearby Robert B. Meyner Reception Center in Holmdel.

More than 75 registrants attended the educational program which was orchestrated to best meet the needs of the Forum's largest audience, New Jersey public school teachers. The NJVVMF is certified by the State Board of Education to be a provider of Professional Development credits which are required of N.J. public school teachers to obtain their recertification. Registrants who attended all of the forum's offerings received a certificate for five hours worth of credits.

The theme for this year's Forum was "Weighing In on War: Public Opinion and Its Influences, Vietnam to Iraq." Keynote speaker was Vietnam Veteran Bobby Muller, founder of Vietnam Veterans of America (VVA) and founder and chairman of the board of Veterans for America (VFA).

During the day, Forum registrants attended five panel-discussion workshop sessions which focused on influences on public opinion regarding war. These sessions were "Government/Military," "News Media," and "Popular Culture," "Veterans' Voice," and "Family and Friends."

The many guest speakers, discussion moderators, tour guide volunteer staff and volunteers who worked as chauffeurs and other jobs came from all walks of life – veterans, educators, military, writers, editors, historians, veteran's spouses, Blue and Gold Star mothers and many more.

The New Jersey Vietnam Veterans' Memorial and the Vietnam Era Educational Center are located on the grounds of the PNC Bank Arts Center, Holmdel, Monmouth County. The Memorial and the Educational Center are maintained through a partnership between the New Jersey Vietnam Veterans' Memorial Foundation and the New Jersey Department of Military and Veterans Affairs.

Policy change boosts G.I. Bill eligibility for some Guard, Reserve

From the desk of retired Command Sgt. Maj. Mike Hughes, Family Assistance specialist

A recent Defense Department policy change widens the eligibility window for some Reserve-component troops who want to use their Montgomery G.I. Bill education benefits. The DoD policy now aligns with Department of Veterans Affairs rules, which say National Guard members and reservists are eligible to receive Montgomery G.I. Bill education benefits for the period covering the amount of time they served on active duty, plus four months. The total amount of G.I. Bill coverage for reservists is still 36 months and reservists normally have 14 years to use their Montgomery G.I. Bill benefits. However, that time might also be extended by the amount of time Guard or Reserve members serve on active duty, plus four months.

The Reserve Education Assistance Program (REAP), established by the 2005 National Defense Authorization Act, is another DoD education initiative for members of the Guard and Reserve. To be eligible, servicemembers must have served at least 90 consecutive days of active service after Sept. 11, 2001, in response to a Presidential or Congressional call-up of military forces for wartime or other emergency service.

Guard and Reserve members who served for two continuous years on active duty in support of a contingency operation would qualify for both the Montgomery G.I. Bill and REAP and could select which program they want to use, Servicemembers can determine if they qualify for the Montgomery G.I. Bill and REAP by contacting their local education office.

Are you Red for the Post Deployment Health Reassessment?

Is your AKO spotlight Red for My Medical Readiness?

Is AKO telling you that you are due to complete your Post Deployment Health Reassessment (PDHRA)?

Want to know how to fix this? The PDHRA seeks to identify proactively potential health issues before they become chronic conditions. The PDHRA provides education, screening, assessment and access to care for a wide variety of questions and concerns that Soldiers may have about their health after they return from deployment. Soldiers who redeployed from a combat zone more than 90 days ago are eligible for the PDHRA.

Just follow these simple directions.

Option 1: Begin PDHRA online and complete it over the phone. You may complete the PDHRA online through AKO by going to <https://apps.mods.army.mil/mwde/secure/AKOForms.asp> and logging in with your AKO username and password. You must then call 1-888-PDHRA-99 to discuss your responses with a healthcare provider.

Option 2: Complete PDHRA entirely over the phone. If you do not have access to a computer or AKO, you may call 1-888-PDHRA-99 and complete the entire assessment over the phone.

Questions? Visit www.virtualarmory.com/mobiledeploy/PDHRA for more information.

Mailing help for holiday overseas packages

By Karen Jowers – Army Times Staff writer

If you want to get holiday gifts to a service member deployed overseas by Dec. 25, it's time to start thinking about mail deadlines.

The first suggested deadline of Nov. 13 is for packages going by parcel post to deployed troops and those living on overseas installations, according to the U.S. Postal Service. Parcel post may be the slowest option, but it's the cheapest, too. For packages to arrive by the start of Hanukkah, at sundown Dec. 4, they should be mailed by Oct. 23.

You can check the cost of mailing your package through different avenues on the Postal Service's Web site.

Postal officials strongly advise families to consider these deadlines because of the volume of mail during the holiday season. Many groups are already gearing up to send packages to deployed troops.

Some tips from the Postal Service:

- ❖ Packages must be addressed to an individual service member. Mail cannot be delivered to "any service member." Use the member's full name, military organization or unit and APO/FPO address.
- ❖ Do not include the country name in any part of the address when using an APO/FPO address.
- ❖ Choose a box strong enough to protect its contents, and use plenty of cushioning material such as popcorn or newspapers.
- ❖ Consider using the Postal Service's free Military Kit - eight boxes of three different sizes popular for mailing to military personnel, along with mailing labels, tape and U.S. Customs forms. Kits can be obtained by calling toll-free to (800) 610-8734. Choose option 1, and when a live agent responds, ask for Care Kit 4.
- ❖ Write the delivery and return addresses on one side of the package.
- ❖ Place a return address label inside the package.

If you miss the parcel post deadline, here are your options for getting mail to an APO/FPO address by Dec. 25 (subtract 21 days from these deadlines to ensure delivery in time for Hanukkah):

- ❖ Space Available Mail (SAM): Nov. 27.
- ❖ Parcel Airlift Mail (PAL): Dec. 4, except for ZIP codes starting with 093, which are all areas of contingency operations. The suggested deadline for those locations is Dec. 1.

- ❖ Priority Mail: Dec. 11 (093 ZIP codes, Dec. 4).
- ❖ First-class letters and cards: Dec. 11. (093 ZIP codes, Dec. 4).
- ❖ Express Mail Military Services: Dec. 18 (not available to 093 ZIP codes).

Visit the following Web site to check out mailing guidelines. <http://www.usps.com/send/preparemailandpackages/preparingpackages.htm>.

For the Families

More unemployment benefits for military spouses

New Jersey, Arkansas, South Carolina and Connecticut have come onboard to allow military spouses to collect unemployment compensation when they quit their jobs to move to new duty stations with their service-member spouses. This makes a total of 21 states that authorize unemployment benefits. Eight other states flatly deny benefits while the remainder will consider them on a case-by-case basis. The changes have occurred since the Department of Defense launched a "USA 4 Military Families" campaign three years ago. To assist, DoD has assigned 10 regional representatives to act as liaison between the services and the appropriate state agencies.

Nov. 3, 1 p.m. – The Last Ghost of War, a film about Vietnamese and American Vietnam Veterans affected by Agent Orange, presented by film director Janet Gardner.

The film will be introduced and discussed by its producer-director, Janet Gardner of Rocky Hill, N.J., co-producer Pham Quoc Thai and attorney Constantine Kokkoris of New York.

The film visits a hospital in Saigon looking at the aftermath of the Vietnam War. Children who have been born with deformities are profiled. Michael and Maureen Ryan of Long Island, N.Y. are also profiled. Their daughter, Kerry, was born with 22 birth defects after Michael's exposure to Agent Orange during his wartime tour of duty in Vietnam.
